

ADVERTISE

There is much advertising value in being seen. The merchant who has a store to pitch horsehoses in the yard of his store, or to go visiting about the neighborhood in business hours, may make quite a reputation for himself, when it comes to a matter of business ability, he will probably be unable to deliver the goods. The moral is—ADVERTISE.

REPUBLICANS SET CONVENTION DATE

APPOINTMENT OF DELEGATES GIVES CARBON FOURTEEN.

Called Call For Ogden, August 8th, Goes Out From State Chairman Hardy and Secretary Cummings Last Monday—Vote For Senator Most In Basis of Representation.

The official call and appointment of delegates for the republican state convention in Ogden, August 8th, was issued last Monday by the republican state committee, signed by vice chairman John R. Hardy and Secretary H. E. Cummings. The convention will consist of six hundred and twenty delegates, the appointment being on the basis of one delegate for every thirty votes cast for Reed republican candidate for United States senator, in 1914.

The convention was designated to be held in Ogden, August 8th or 9th, but August 8th was finally determined upon, after the state committee had conferred with the Weber county member of the committee, C. E. Hollingsworth. It is to be the big republican inaugural of the political campaign, since it will nominate the candidates for governor, United States senator, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general, one justice of the supreme court, state superintendent of public instruction and four presidential electors. Also it will choose a republican state committee to serve during the ensuing two years.

The call instructs republican county committees to arrange for county conventions or primaries to elect delegates to the state gathering. Major H. P. Myton, chairman of the republican committee for the second congressional district, will make a call for primaries at the same time as the state primaries, to elect delegates to the congressional nominating convention. This meeting will be held in Salt Lake City the day following the convention.

The appointment of delegates to the state convention, by counties, is as follows: Beaver, 9; Box Elder, 25; Carbon, 14; Davis, 19; Duchesne, 13; Emery, 9; Garfield, 12; Grand, 2; Iron, 11; Juab, 14; Kane, 5; Lincoln, 12; Morgan, 6; Piute, 3; Rich, 4; Salt Lake, 187; San Juan, 3; Sevier, 14; Summit, 16; Tipton, 12; Uintah, 8; Utah, 67; Wasatch, 17; Washington, 11; Wayne, 2; Weber, 68. Total, 624.

The state committee will meet at Ogden at 10 o'clock the morning of the convention.

Samuel A. King, delegate to the republican national convention in St. Louis, is home after an extended trip through the East. He brought a report of general support for President Wilson and the present national administration, and of almost unbroken sentiment throughout the country for peace. "As long as we are able to avoid war," King said, "I would the sentiment to be that we should avoid it. Not avoid it at any price, but at an honorable price. I would people ready to fight Mexico if it were found necessary, but all want to wait until there is no other way. President Wilson is strongly supported everywhere in the East. His reelection is already conceded."—Deseret News, 4th.

Culbert L. Olson is being mentioned by his friends as a likely candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator from Utah. Olson is not prepared to announce himself as a candidate at this stage of the game, but it is known that he has admitted to his friends that should his candidacy be urged he will make the race. The gentleman is a Salt Lake City attorney and a brother of Postmaster Olson of Price.

John C. McKay denies the rumor that he is circulating during the last few days that he has withdrawn from the race for the republican nomination for governor. He says that he intends to go into the convention and fight for a place on the ticket.

Delegations from Cache, Carbon, Piute and Tooele counties recently called at the headquarters of Senator Sutherland in Salt Lake City and informed the staff headquarters there that their counties would support the senator for the nomination to succeed himself.

There are now four candidates for the congressional nomination in the Second district. All live in Salt Lake county. They are Albert H. Barnes, at present attorney general; T. L. Holman, now deputy secretary of state; James Devine, now superintendent of the state capital, and W. E. Hinchey, a Zion attorney.

A. T. Moon, progressive national committee-man from Utah, has declined an invitation from Norman Hargood, formerly editor at various times of Collier's and Harper's weeklies, to take the lead in organizing a Utah branch of the Woodrow Wilson League. A telegraphic dispatch inviting him to take the initiative in this state in the league organization, was received by Mr. Moon from Hargood. He telegraphed back:

NO COUNTY FAIR THIS FALL

There will be no Carbon-Emery fair this fall. It has been postponed until next year. "After consulting with the county commissioners of both Carbon and Emery counties," says Prof. Robert E. Stewart, county farm demonstrator and agent of the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., "it was thought advisable to miss this year and to begin now to lay full plans for a very fine fair next year."

"County funds are very low in each county, the crops are not the most encouraging—due to the bad, cold, backward spring. Again, it is presidential year. Money is tighter, and, while all in all it might pay, it is believed best to miss one year. The people of our counties see the worth of county fairs, and will be much more enthusiastic in having one after missing one year."

"This year's assessment will pay off all outstanding indebtedness, and conditions will be excellent for a good fair next year—1917. Farmers next spring should prepare for the coming year, as it is now decided definitely to renew the fair in nineteen seventeen."

at Price. Of late years he has been more or less prominent in politics.

John county republicans intend sending a solid delegation to the republican state convention to be held at Ogden August 8th, instructed by T. C. Winn of Nephi, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for state treasurer. John county has not been represented on a republican ticket for a number of years and Winn is the only candidate for any nomination on the republican ticket from John county. Republicans believe he would make a strong candidate for the state treasurer.

Thomas H. McMillan of Price announces through The Sun this week as a candidate for sheriff of Carbon county. McMillan is a lifelong republican and a citizen here going on six years. His name is not to be considered with that of A. L. McMullen, a very excellent gentleman, and also a candidate for the nomination to the same office.

Officers of the Societas at Price have called a meeting of all members of clubs in Carbon and Emery counties for Thursday, August 10th, at the club rooms in Price to form a district federation.

Progressives of Utah will disband as a party and all members will be urged to enter the republican conventions in the state if plans of the leaders are carried out is the news from Salt Lake City this (Friday) morning.

It is expected that H. R. Kirkpatrick, county chairman, will call a convention of republicans at Price for August 7th, next, to name fourteen delegates to the state convention at Ogden.

MANY GETTING READY TO INCORPORATE DAIRY SCHEME

Articles of incorporation of a stock company to promote the interests of dairying to the state as outlined by the sub-committee appointed for the purpose were approved by the committee of business men appointed by Gov. William Fry to aid the industry at a meeting held last Tuesday at Salt Lake City.

The articles will be presented to the bankers of the city and state by the committee at a meeting which will be held this (Friday) afternoon.

The purpose of the organization is to provide for loans to the small farmer to permit him to invest in a limited number of dairy cattle and thereby upbuild the dairy industry in the state.

No attempt to market dairy products is contemplated in the plan.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Exceptionally Good Meeting In Price Last Saturday Evening.

It was a large and enthusiastic crowd that surged into the dining room of the Bayco last Saturday night about 8 o'clock—members and guests of the Young Men's Republican club of Price. Places were set for sixty-five and there were no vacant chairs. At the suggestion of Attorney L. A. McGee all coats were removed. Someone suggested that "Coats Off" be adopted as the slogan of the club and it was so done unanimously.

After disposing of a sumptuous banquet and a considerable quantity of excellent punch, Toastmaster L. A. McGee took charge of the gathering and called on a number of "those present" for short talks, first reading a letter from Attorney J. W. Cherry, candidate for judge of the Seventh Judicial district, expressing his regret at being unable to accept the invitation of the club to be present and expressing his good wishes for the success of the organization.

Dr. H. E. Howard as president of the club welcomed the guests and discussed the purpose of the club. J. P. McKnight spoke on the institution as a political factor, Oscar Hanson outlined briefly the history of the republican party and H. R. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the republican county central committee, delivered a message of good cheer from the camps and outlying districts of Carbon county.

Frederick H. Woods, candidate on the republican ticket for district attorney of the Seventh Judicial district, artistically delivered a left-handed salutation on Wilson's foreign policy and Judge A. J. Lee enumerated some of the failures of the present national administration's internal policies. W. M. McCrea, a Salt Lake City attorney, spoke on the "Achievements, Possibilities and Prospects of the Grand Old Party." The speaker was handicapped for time, owing to the lateness of the hour, but he made a rousing talk that was well received. Carl R. Marcussen followed with a few well chosen remarks as to the republican party being always one of action—the party that does things. All the speakers were roundly applauded and heartily cheered throughout their talks and between each of the numbers Toastmaster McGee added sent to the occasion with witty quips and comments.

The Sun last Saturday afternoon had a telephone message from J. E. Clayton, campaign manager for Senator George Sutherland, stating that the former expected to be in Price at

MANGLED IN HELPER YARDS, WEDNESDAY

Kennedy, Son of C. H. Cody, Dies On Special Train While Being Rushed to Hospital For Surgical Attention.

C. Kennedy Cody, aged 19 years and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cody of Helper, met with a most shocking accident that a few hours later terminated in death at that town about 4:20 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon. His right forearm was mangled to almost a pulp at the elbow as were both legs just below the hips. Immediately following the accident and at five minutes to 5 o'clock the young man was placed aboard a special train with the intention of taking him to St. Mark's Hospital at Salt Lake City, but when the station at Helper, just this side of Thistle, was reached death came to relieve him.

Since coming home from Wasatch academy at Mt. Pleasant this year, the young man had been employed at the Denver and Rio Grande station at Helper under his father as bill clerk. When an extra train came in from the west Wednesday afternoon he attempted to jump on the caboose as it passed the depot to get the waybills of the train from the conductor. Young Cody missed his hold on the caboose rods about the steps. Two of the caboose's wheels passed over the arm and legs as above stated.

Dr. F. H. Blumensaker, Denver and Rio Grande surgeon at Helper, was quickly upon the scene following the accident and accompanied the special train. When Thistle was reached he broke the news by wire of the young man's death to the parents at Helper. The latter were to have followed the special on the first passenger train west. They later, however, went in to Salt Lake City yesterday morning. The funeral will be held from the E. W. Hall chapel tomorrow afternoon.

Many friends of the young man and the family at Helper and elsewhere will go to Salt Lake City tomorrow (Saturday) morning. Burial will be at Mt. Olivet, where Mr. and Mrs. Cody have a plot. Kenneth Cody was a most estimable young man and had a bright future before him. He was popular, courteous, the soul of honor and was held in the very highest esteem by all those with whom he came in contact. The Sun with many Price friends of the family grieves with Mr. and Mrs. Cody in their sorrow.

The most horrible thing in connection with the deplorable accident, and which words cannot express, was that the father was standing at a window of the depot and saw his son literally ground to pieces. It occurred within fifty feet of the father.

BACK FROM THE EAST

Mining Expert Returns After An Absence of Four Months.

John B. Forrester, of the engineering and contracting firm of Forrester & Leger at Price, has been back in Carbon county about a week after an absence of some four months in an examination of the coal fields of Tennessee, West Virginia and Alabama for some big Eastern interests. He also made a study of operating costs and mining conditions generally as well as studying the labor situation. His business took him to New York City a couple of times, where he saw E. L. Carpenter, formerly vice president and general manager of the United States Fuel company. The latter has a fine position in Gotham and is well pleased with his surroundings.

At no place did he find mines more up to date than the several Utah properties in this section of the state. The Utah managements are second to none in the matter of safeguarding their employees. Utah operators believe in action and not so much in publicity, hence the excellent physical condition of their properties. While the trip was a profitable and pleasurable one, Forrester is glad to get home, where he found plenty of work to do that had accumulated during his absence.

The banquet. However, things came up at Zion which prevented the coming of Clayton to Price. He is private secretary to Senator Sutherland.

Every store has some one who is more or less interested in pushing the business. Every business is worthy to a greater or less extent of being enlarged. If the right person gets the business in hand and pushes in the right way he can make of that business a very decided enlargement and make for himself a very marked advantage.

UP TO THE RAILROAD

Sugar Factory Coming If Denver and Rio Grande Gets Busy.

Thomas H. Cutler, vice president and general manager, announced yesterday at Salt Lake City that the Utah-Idaho Sugar company will build a sugar factory in Emery county providing the Denver and Rio Grande will construct a branch line from Price, twenty-eight miles south, to haul beets to the factory. Experiments show that Emery and Carbon counties produce as good a grade of beets as any section of the state, says this (Friday) morning's Herald-Republican.

Farmers who have urged the sugar company to build were told that it must first be shown that the required amount of acreage would be planted to keep a factory supplied with beets and also that a railroad must be run to the fields. Reports received by the Utah-Idaho Sugar company were to the effect that the necessary acreage had been signed up by the Carbon and Emery county farmers, but that the Denver and Rio Grande had not as yet given an answer to the petition for the branch line.

The factory would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 and would be equipped with the latest machinery. Cutler said the sugar company could not build the factory unless the railroad company builds the branch line, as it is too costly to haul beets in wagons any great distance. Emery county farmers are perfecting an organization to extend aid to the Denver and Rio Grande in building the twenty-eight miles of road, which would pass through Castle Dale and Huntington.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Considerable Business Transacted At Last Tuesday's Meeting

All three of the county commissioners, J. R. Sharp, W. T. Hamilton and Albert Bryner, were present at last Tuesday's meeting of the board. Arthur J. Lee and Prof. R. H. Stewart were present to consult with the board as to the advisability of holding a county fair at Price this fall. There is an indebtedness from last year of around five hundred dollars. This together with recent repairs on the fair grounds buildings made it impossible to allow any appropriation from public funds. Emery county's commissioners have also signified their intention of making no appropriation.

On motion of Commissioner Hamilton, Carbonville voting precinct is abolished and added to Price. Carbon is tacked on to Helper and Utah Mine to Redfield. An ordinance to this effect was ordered drawn and is to be published in the three newspapers of the county.

Clerk Horsley was ordered to draw a warrant in favor of the state road commission out of the general fund for five thousand dollars. Also to issue warrants for county road work. Justice reports from Kentworth and Rushside were submitted and approved. The reports of the treasurer, clerk, recorder and sheriff were also approved and ordered filed.

The claim of J. J. Burke & Co. of Salt Lake City, amounting to $28.84, interest on unpaid balance for Helper bridge work in 1915, was allowed. The clerk was ordered to issue a warrant for the amount.

Liquor licenses were granted to R. Plam of Helper, Anton Dupin of Spring Glen and to Joe Millmore and Fred Larcher, the latter two at Sunnyside. The bond of L. Glaser at Sunnyside as a retail liquor dealer was released at the request of the bonding company. Glaser gives bond to the town of Sunnyside, since the latter was incorporated.

An ordinance was passed to prevent the spread of rabies and one also as to the registration of dogs.

An adjournment was taken subject to the call of Commissioner Bryner.

Owing to the immense activity at the smelters at different points west of us, says Helper's Times of last Friday, immense quantities of Colorado coke are being shipped through here to supply the demand at those places. The Sunnyside mines and coke ovens are working to capacity, but cannot keep the smelters supplied.
